A. C. GLIDDEN. Railroad Talk.

Possible that the old C. L. & M scheme is not dead. Some five years ago Paw Paw people were quite positive they were about to get a railroad.

The scheme to which we refer was that of building a road from the rich coal fields, near Columbus, O., through Lima, Defiance and other Ohio points to Paw Paw, Allegan, Sangatuck and of lake frontage at Saugatuck and the commencement of grading on the south-Following is a synopsis of the pro-ceedings in Judge Heckert's court for ber the confident assertions by Attorney J. H. Padgham of Allegan that the road would be built. The chief financial backer of the road became bankrupt and the scheme has since peacefully slept until suddenly awakened last week by the Allegan Gazette, in a column and a half article, which was based on the following dispatch: "Lima, O., March 23 —A company was incorporated at Columbus, O., the 20th for the purpose of completing the pro-posed Columbus, Lima & Milwaukee road, or building a line from Lima northward and parallel to that road, nothing upon which has been done for the past five years. The road is partially graded and bridged between Lima and Defiance, through which latter place the road will pass. new company. The principal object set forth by the projectors of the road was, of course, to furnish cheap coal to the northwest. The present depressed condition of the coal mining interests in Ohio would seem to be a double incentive now for the opening up of new markets through improved transportation facilities.

The NORTHERNER was not five years road will be constructed, but gives the space to acquaint its readers with the current rumors. However, should our judgment be at fault and should there develop a prospect of the road becoming a reality, we assure the other towns along the proposed line that Paw Paw wants a railroad now as badly as it ever 24, both of Keeler.
